

K4C Elected Official Summit Agenda

February 7, 2018

King Street Center 8th Floor Conference Room, 201 S. Jackson Street, Seattle

9:15 – 10:00 Pre – summit coffee hour and special focus exhibits:

- Million Trees and Urban Forestry – King County and Partners
 - Climate Change Communications and Infographic – King County
 - Scope 5 Sustainability Reporting – Cities of Redmond and Bellevue
-

10:00 - 10:10 Kickoff & Welcome – King County Executive Dow Constantine

10:10 - 10:30 K4C Goals, Shared Action Commitments, and Future

- With new leadership for several K4C cities, and strong interest in joining from others, Megan Smith, King County, will recap K4C goals, accomplishments, and future actions.
- Joint actions in 2017 include:
 - Green Direct wind power enrollment
 - “Cities Fund to Reduce Energy Demand” loan program
 - Grant funding for greenhouse gas inventory study
 - Jointly seeking state and federal action on a clean energy future
- Examples of how cities and county are moving K4C commitments individually and jointly
- Q & A; Discussion

10:30 – 10:55 How are we doing on reducing greenhouse gas emissions?

- Jennifer Ewing and Emma Johnson, City of Bellevue, will share results from County – wide greenhouse gas inventories conducted in 2017.
- Q&A to follow the presentation.

10:55 – 11:25 Clean Electricity Pathways Study Findings

- Ryan Cook of Meister Consulting Group will share findings from the study commissioned to chart pathways to 90% renewable electricity supply in King County (community scale).
- Findings can help to focus our K4C work on the policies and investments that will have the most impact in removing barriers and accelerating transition to renewable energy.
- Q&A to follow the presentation.

11:25 – 11:35 Clean Energy Action

- Several cities have expressed interest in model resolution on clean energy that references K4C shared commitments.
- We will present and discuss a model resolution or pledge that could be adopted by any K4C partner, or tailored further.

11:35 – 11:50 K4C 2018 Legislative Session and State Actions

- Nicole Sanders, City of Snoqualmie, will speak to climate and energy related bills in the 2018 session.

11:50 - 12:00 Look ahead and closing remarks

12:00 Summit adjourns